II CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL DATA

Any information related to a natural person who the Company is capable of identifying constitutes personal data.

In the context of trading, the Company handles the following types (categories) of personal data¹:

1 IDENTIFICATION AND CONTACT DATA FOR CONTRACTUAL RELATIONS

Such data is essential for the conclusion and performance of a contract between the Company and you or company which you represent or for discussions about such a contract. This involves in particular your academic title, first name and surname, name, business name, date of birth, Business ID No, Tax ID No, address of permanent residence, address of registered seat or place of trading, signature etc. It also involves the academic title, first name and surname, position and signature of your representatives or entrusted persons.

We process the contact data so that we can contact you if needs be in connection with the contract, and this consists in particular of your telephone number and email address and that of your representatives or entrusted persons.

2 DATA ABOUT GOODS AND SERVICES AND DELIVERY DATA

We process data about which services or goods you order from us and the address to which the goods should be delivered. Similarly we process data about services or goods which we order from you.

3 PAYMENT DATA

¹ Some personal data comes in several categories, so it may be repeated several times in the overview.

We process the number of your bank account and data from your payment card so that we can identify your payments and so that we know to where we should make payments in your favour.

4 INVOICING DATA

We process data such as your first name and surname, invoicing address, data about purchased, ordered or delivered goods or service and their price essential so that we can issue billing for the goods or services, we can confirm the shipping notes and we can comply with the duty to keep accounts as imposed on us by the law.

5 DATA FROM COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE CUSTOMER OR SUPPLIER

This data arises during communication associated with the provision of services and goods between the Company and the customer or supplier. These are records of personal communication with the customer or supplier, written and electronic communication with the customer or supplier.

6 CAMERA RECORDINGS FROM COMPANY PREMISES

For reasons of security and to protect the legitimate interests of the Company, the complex and premises of the Company are covered by a camera system. The areas where cameras are located are always marked with a warning. Video recordings are processed using the camera system. More detailed information about the camera system is available on the web sites of the company in the section "Personal Data" and also at all our receptions in the Company complex and its premises.

7 DATA GAINED DURING REGISTRATION ON WEB SITES

This involves the data you enter during registration on our web sites, such as academic title, first name and surname, name, business name, date of birth, Business ID No, Tax ID No, address of permanent residence, address of registered seat or place of trading.

8 COOKIES

We use cookies to collect information about how the website visitor uses the website, which pages he or her visited and which links clicked on. It concerns Google analytics cookies only. All of the data are anonymized and cannot be used to identify the website visitor. The Company is allowed to store cookies or to gain access to such cookies only under the condition that the website visitor has given his or her consent. The consent is not mandatory and can be revoked at any time. The website visitor can give the consent or withdraw it via buttons on the website.

9 DATABASE OF CUSTOMERS AND SUPPLIERS

If we have already made a business contact with someone, we retain his/her identification and contact data, such as academic title, first name and surname, business name, Business ID No, address of permanent residence, address of headquarters or place of trading, telephone number and email address, in our database. We use this data for communication, performing contracts, concluding new contracts, dealing with claims and servicing.

10 DATA FOR MARKETING PURPOSES

For marketing purposes we use the database of our existing customers and list of persons who may become our customers in the future. On this list we have their academic title, first name and surname, name, business name, Business ID No, address of permanent residence, address of registered seat or place of trading, telephone number and email address.

We send out commercial messages in the form of postal correspondence, email, internet or mobile messages.

With regard to the sending of commercial messages by email to existing customers of the Company about the same or similar products or services of the Company, this involves the use of personal data for the use of which we do not need your consent.

In other cases this data is used on the basis of your consent to the sending of commercial messages.

11 DATA FOR PROCEEDINGS ABOUT CONTRACT OF EMPLOYMENT

If you decide to apply for a job with us, we will need your identification and contact data and data about your education, abilities and skills and work experience hitherto provided by you to us in the form of a CV and cover letter for the period of proceedings about the concluding of a contract of employment or other employment-law contract.

12 DATA ABOUT VISITS TO PREMISES

For reasons of security and protection of health and assets of the Company and third parties, we process data about persons entering the Company complex. For these purposes it is essential for a person entering the complex to provide their identification data in the scope of first name and surname, national identity card or passport, number and type of such document, and also the name of the visited person and if applicable purpose of visit.

III PURPOSE AND LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING

We process your data only in the scope essential for the relevant purpose – for example so that we can supply or receive goods or provide or receive a service. This involves also cases of negotiating a new contract. Many laws, such as the Accountancy Act, the VAT Act, the Income Tax Act etc., impose on us a duty to process your data.

The scope of the processed data depends on the purpose of processing. For certain purposes it is possible to process data directly on the basis of a contract, the legitimate interest of the Company, or on the basis of a law, but for other purposes only on the basis of your consent. We do not need your consent for the processing of personal data for the purpose of performance of a contract, performance of legal obligations for the reason of the legitimate interests of the Company. For this activity the personal data is processed in the scope necessary to achieve these purposes and for the period necessary for their attainment. Then the personal data is erased or anonymised.

This involves in particular the following purpose and legal bases, divided up according to the individual categories of personal data:

IV PERSONAL DATA PROCESSING AND STORAGE PERIOD

We use your data and keep it only for the period absolutely essential required of us by legal regulations or which we need to protect our rights. We have internal archiving rules configured that ensure that we do not hold on to data longer than we are authorised to.

In general terms we are obliged to store basic data and data about products and services on the basis of legislation, for example accountancy act or tax acts. For example, we keep invoices for 10 years from the end of the tax period in which performance occurred. Due to the need to prove the legal basis for the issue of invoices, contracts are also kept for 10 years from the end of the contract.

We keep data for a period of 3 – 5 years for the needs of our legitimate interests, in particular for the eventuality that we would have to submit evidence in a court case, this with regard to the periods of limitation according to the current Civil Code.

If we use the data on the basis of your consent, we do so only for the period for which this consent lasts, unless we have another legal ground for it.

The below table contains the concrete periods for processing of individual categories of personal data for the individual purposes.

V SOURCES OF PERSONAL DATA

We process data which we have received from you and also data from publicly accessible sources and registers, such as the Trades Register, and data from third parties.

VI RECIPIENTS OF PERSONAL DATA

During its activities the Company uses the expert and specialised services of third parties. If these suppliers process personal data for the Company in the sense of the Regulation, they have the status of personal data processors and process the personal data only on the basis of the contract and according to the instructions from the Company, and they must not use it otherwise. If the recipients process personal data for themselves (they have resources designated by the purposes of processing), they have the status of independent personal data controllers.

Your personal data may be passed on to these recipients:

We select each subject carefully. Companies with their registered seat on the territory of the Czech Republic, Germany or in any EU Member State may be recipients of personal data. We do not pass on your personal data to recipients and processors outside the territory of the European Union.

In the context of performing its statutory obligations the company also passes on personal data to administrative bodies and authorities designated by valid legislation because some public authorities and other organisations are authorised to require information about you. These are in particular courts, the Police of the site the legal entity is located ~~Czech Republic~~ and others. So we provide data only if the law permits authorisation to demand this data.

Recordings from the camera system are passed on only in cases where this is imposed on the Company by the law or on its basis (making data accessible to criminal investigation and prosecution authorities or administrative bodies for the purposes of misdemeanour proceedings etc.).

VII MEANS OF PERSONAL DATA PROCESSING

The Company processes personal data manually (on paper) and automatically via IT systems.

VIII INFORMATION ABOUT RIGHTS OF DATA SUBJECTS IN CONTEXT OF PROCESSING

We process your data transparently, properly and in compliance with the law. You have a right to access to your data, to explanations, and other rights if you feel that the processing is not correct.

You can assert all of your rights given below, objections and requirements (naturally with the exception of the right to lodge a complaint with the Personal Data Protection Office, which you can only assert at this office)

for BONATRANS GROUP a.s.:

1. by letter delivered to the address of the Company's registered seat
2. via the form on the internet pages of the Company <https://bonatrans.com/en/personal-data/>

for Gutehoffnungshütte Radsatz GmbH:

1. by letter delivered to the address of the Company's registered seat
2. via the form on the internet pages of the Company <https://www.ghh-bonatrans.com/de/personliche-daten/>

If you assert any of your rights, and we have reasonable doubts about your identity, we can ask for the provision of additional information essential for its confirmation.

If you assert a right, request or objection, if your request is justified, we will adopt measures commensurate with it without delay and at the latest within one month of the delivery of your request. Otherwise in the same period we will inform you of the reasons for not adopting the measure and about the possibility to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority and apply for judicial redress. This period can be extended by a further two months if needs be and with regard to the complexity and number of requests. In such a case we will inform you of any extension within one month from receiving the request along with the reasons for this deferral.

If you submit the request in electronic form, we will also provide you with information in electronic form if possible, unless you request another method.

Information and all announcements and acts are provided and performed free of charge. If your requests are evidently unjustified or excessive, we may require of you a commensurate fee reflecting the administrative costs associated with the provision of the required information or announcements or performance of required acts, or we may refuse to accede to the request.

This concerns the following rights:

1 RIGHT TO ACCESS TO PERSONAL DATA

If you ask us, you will receive from us a confirmation about whether we process your personal data, and if so, also:

- a copy of your personal data that we have,
- information about:
 - o the purposes for which we process it,
 - o categories of processed personal data,
 - o recipients to whom your personal data was or will be made accessible,
 - o planned period of processing (keeping) of your personal data,
 - o about the existence of the right to demand of us rectification or erasure of your personal data, restriction of its processing or to object to this processing,
 - o the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority,
 - o about all available information, about the personal data source if we did not obtain it from you,

- o whether automatic decision-making, including profiling, is taking place,
- o about suitable guarantees should we send your personal data outside the EU (which we, however, do not do).

2 RIGHT TO RECTIFICATION OF INACCURATE DATA

You have the right to warn us of inaccurate, outdated or incomplete personal data. Naturally in such a case we will rectify it. Until we verify the accuracy of your data we will restrict its processing (see point 4 below). With regard to the purposes for which your data is processed, you also have the right for us to complete incomplete data.

3 RIGHT TO OBJECT TO PERSONAL DATA PROCESSING

You may object at any time to the processing of your personal data which we use for the reason of our legitimate interest.

Until such time as it is verified that we have serious legitimate reasons for the processing of your personal data, we restrict its processing, unless such processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. If it is seen that we do not have reasons for the processing of your personal data, we will erase your personal data, unless you require its preservation.

At any time you can object to the processing of your personal data which we process for the reason of direct marketing, and we will terminate the use of your personal data for these purposes.

4 RIGHT TO RESTRICTION OF PROCESSING

In some cases we are obliged to restrict the processing of your personal data. This means that your personal data will be saved with us, and we will not be able to handle it in any way unless you give us consent to it or it is essential for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or for the reason of protection of the rights of a another natural or legal person.

We are obliged to start restricting the processing of personal data if:

- you contest the accuracy of the personal data, for the period enabling us to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
- it becomes evident that the processing of your personal data is unlawful, and you reject its erasure, and instead demand of us a restriction of its use;
- we no longer need your personal data, but you ask us to keep it for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
- you object to the processing of your personal data for the purposes of our legitimate interests, until it is verified whether our legitimate reasons for the processing of your personal data override your legitimate reasons for this data to be erased.

5 RIGHT TO ERASURE

You have the right to erasure of personal data applying to you if:

- your personal data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was gathered or otherwise processed;
- you withdraw the consent on the basis of which the data was processed, and there exist no other legal grounds for processing;
- you object to the processing of your personal data for the purposes of our legitimate interests, and it becomes evident that our reasons for processing are not serious;
- you object to the processing of personal data for direct marketing;
- the personal data was processed by us unlawfully;

- the personal data must be erased for compliance with a legal obligation that the law imposes on us;
- the personal data was gathered in the context of the offer of information society services to a child.

But we point out that there are cases where we do not have an obligation to erase your personal data (even if one of the above conditions is met), for example if we need the data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

6 RIGHT TO PERSONAL DATA PORTABILITY

If we process your personal data automatically (i.e., using information technology) on the basis of a contract or your consent, and you ask us for it, we will transmit to you your personal data that you have provided to us in a structured, commonly-used and machine-readable format. If you want, we will transmit this data to another controller who you designate if technically feasible.

If through the exercise of this right there could be an infringement of the rights and freedoms of third parties, it is not possible to comply with your request.

7 RIGHT TO WITHDRAW CONSENT TO THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

In cases where we need your consent for the processing of your data, you are authorised to withdraw this consent at any time. Withdrawal of consent has no impact on the processing of your data for the period for which this consent was validly granted, nor on the processing of your data for other legal grounds if they are applied (for example, compliance with legal obligations or for the purposes of our legitimate interests).

8 AUTOMATED INDIVIDUAL DECISION-MAKING, INCLUDING PROFILING

You have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which would produce legal effects concerning you or would similarly significantly affect you.

The Company does not perform automated decision-making without influence of human evaluation with legal effects for data subjects.

9 RIGHT TO APPLY TO PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION OFFICE

If you feel that the regulation or some other law has been breached by the processing of your personal data, you have the right to apply to:

- the Personal Data Protection Office (www.uouu.cz) (in the Czech Republic) concerning BONATRANS GROUP a.s.
- Der Bundesbeauftragte für den Datenschutz und die Informationsfreiheit (<http://www.bfdi.bund.de>) (in Germany) concerning Gutehoffnungshütte Radsatz GmbH and lodge a complaint with it.

10 RIGHT TO RESTRICT OR CANCEL MARKETING MESSAGES

If you have granted us consent for marketing, or for some other reason commercial offers are sent to you from us, you can withdraw your consent at any time or unsubscribe from the sending of offers in the following ways:

- our commercial messages directly include the possibility of stopping their sending,
- if you no longer wish us to telephone you, tell us during a call,
- you can also inform us in at our branch or in writing that you no longer wish to receive offers.

We would like to point out that if you restrict marketing, we may still contact you for the purposes of servicing, claims and the provision of services which you have ordered.
